The Hebrew word “Nechama” means comfort

When a pregnancy ends before birth, or when the child does not survive, the sense of loss is profound. Where can the family turn?

NechamaComfort is an organization dedicated to helping all family members who have experienced infant and pregnancy loss at any time in their lives.

NechamaComfort is there from the moment of loss to years later—offering counseling, resources, support groups and community education about the difficulties of infant or pregnancy loss.

NechamaComfort offers services to all family members, clergy, the community, and medical personnel:

- Immediate attention at the time of the loss, guiding families through difficult choices and decisions
- Support for the whole family including grandparents and extended family members
- Individual counseling—phone and Skype sessions for distant clients.
- Ongoing support groups
- Resource referrals
- Community education programs
- Education for medical staff and clergy
- Help arranging Jewish burial
- Support during subsequent pregnancies
- Assisting families to find a meaningful way to move through the loss

What you can do

Do you know someone who has experienced infant or pregnancy loss? It can be difficult to know what to say or do to support people going through this tragedy.

We've created a downloadable guide of Do's and Don'ts to help you be a comfort to the family at this difficult time. Find the PDF and other valuable resources on our website, Facebook and Instagram.

A personal note or condolence card can let the family know you are thinking of them. For contributions over $36, NechamaComfort can acknowledge your gift with a memorial card sent in your name.

Our services are free to anyone in need.

Your contribution can help:

- Establish a support hotline
- Hold community awareness events
- Develop a child burial needs fund
- Conduct an annual memorial service
- Host a help and healing retreat
- Fund memory boxes and educational materials
- Publish a guide for clergy & medical personnel
